O'DANIEL REMARKS CRITICIZED

SENATE COMPLETED PASSAGE ABOLISHING TAX COMMISSIONER

OFFICE BE ELIMINATED IMMEDIATELY UPON SIGNATURE OF O'DANIEL

AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—(P)—The senate today completed passage of a bill to abolish the office of tax commissioner, concurring in house amendments by a vote of 26 to 2.

The office will be eliminated immediately upon signature of the measure by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, the bill probably will reach the governor's office early next week after completion of official details.

O'Daniel was given credit for passage of the proposal in a speech yesterday by Clint C. Small of Amarillo, dean of the senate. Proponents estimated elimination of the department would effect a saving of more than $50,000 a year. The small band of opponents contended it would result in a loss because of a reduction in tax collections. The controller will take the duties now performed by the tax commissioner.

The house overrode one of its committees for the first time by voting to print a minor report on a bill calling for a $10,000 appropriation to aid in prosecution of an anti-trust suit against four Texas cement manufacturing companies.

Rep. Paris Smith of Bay City, who led the fight for keeping the bill alive, said the only question was whether you want the attorney general to investigate this trust. Opponents insisted the attorney general could handle the matter as part of his regular biennial appropriation. The appropriations committee had voted against the bill.

The house overwhelmingly adopted a resolution calling for a survey of the state's steadily increasing gasoline tax refunds.

MORGENTHAU DENIES STABILIZING FUND USED AID FRANCE

FUNDS NOT USED DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY TO AID ANY COUNTRY'S BUYINGS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(P)—Secretary Morgenthau denied today the treasury's $2,000,000 stabilization fund had been used to help finance any foreign country buy military supplies or other merchandise in this country.

Asked whether the stabilization fund might have been involved in the French plans deal, the secretary said:

The stabilization fund has not been used directly or indirectly in any way whatsoever to help any country make any purchase of merchandise.

The stabilization fund, created out of the profit of dollar devaluation in 1934, conducts foreign exchange market operations in an effort to stabilize the dollar in reference to foreign currencies.

Morgenthau said secrecy was necessary to the fund's operations. He declined to comment directly on the proposal of Lodge for an independent audit of the fund, but said such a resolution would reflect on the integrity of three

HOOVER SEES WAR AHEAD AS RESULT OF FOREIGN POLICY

ECONOMIC SANCTIONS WILL SURELY BRING CONFLICT FORMER PRESIDENT SAYS

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—(P)—Herbert Hoover declared last night President Roosevelt had announced a "new foreign policy" which would prescribe measures which would provoke international ill will and possibly lead to war.

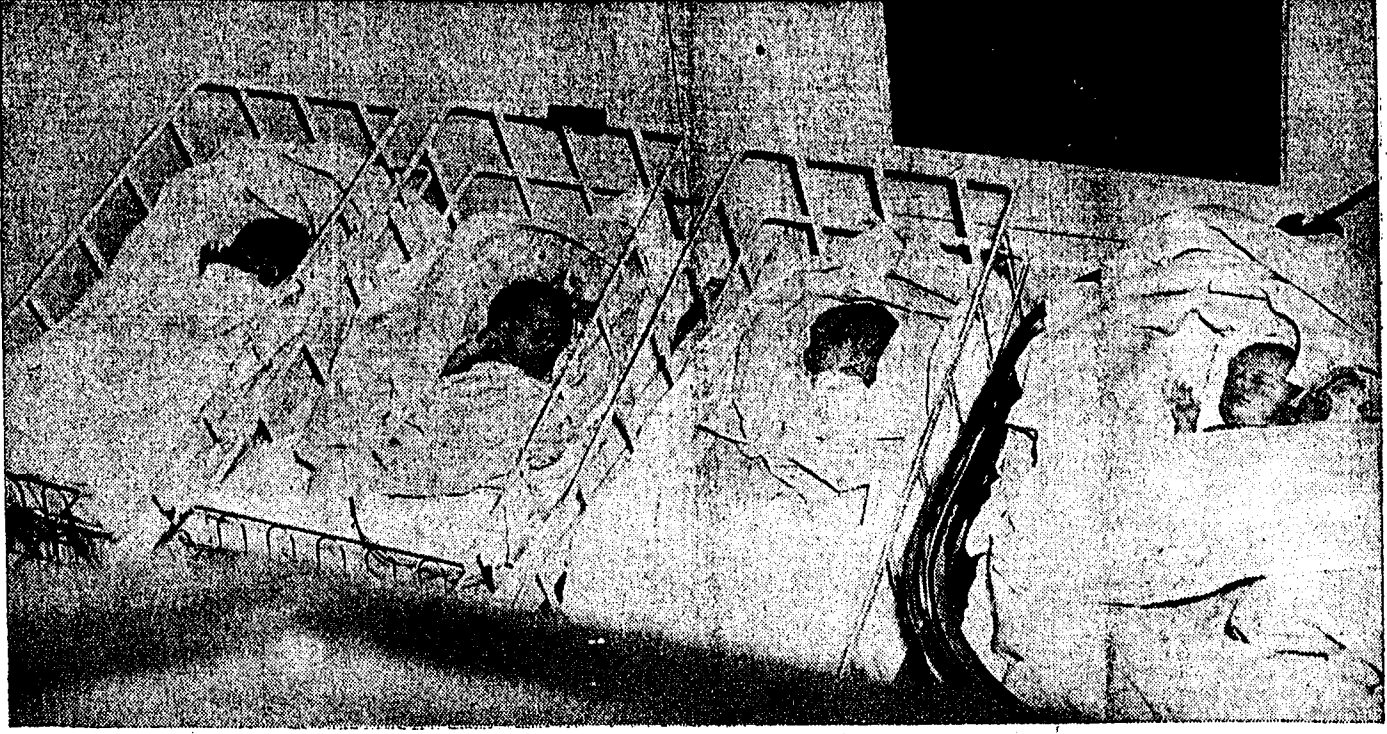

The use of coercion, such as economic sanctions, and a national integral part of President Roosevelt's proposed expansion of foreign policy, and asserted any form of coercion "is the straight path to war itself."

"No hasty nation," said the former president, "will stand such pressure without bloody resistance. Those who think in terms of economic sanctions should also think in terms of war."

Mr. Hoover set forth his views in an address to the council on foreign relations and a nationwide radio audience. Gen. Charles G. Dawes, formerly vice president and ambassador to Great Britain, and many of the city's outstanding business men professional men, were in the visible audience of approximately 800.

Mr. Hoover said the nation would willingly bear the burden of increased armament for national defense but contended the "proper degree" of military preparedness depended upon the nation's foreign policy and the source of its dangers.

TEXAS' FIRST GIRL QUADRUPLTS

Four lusty-lunged tiny girls believed the first all girl quadruplets born in Texas were born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Badgett of Galveston. They are shown in this photograph in their special nursery at St. Mary's Infirmary a few hours after birth. The photographer was allowed no closer than the transom through which he made the shot. They likely will spend the first two weeks of their lives in this specially controlled room and visitors forbidden. Dr. W. J. Jenkins, attending physician, was astonished as the parents, preparations having been made for the arrival of triplets. The father is a construction company foreman. (Associated Press Photo)

Dallas Killer Escapes Prison Farm Thursday

HUNTSVILLE, Feb. 2.—(P)—Robert Lacy Cash, 24-year-old Dallas killer, whose will-o-the-wisp activities keep state penitentiary officials on the jump, escaped the prison system again today.

He hid behind a door while his squad mates trudged out into the fields of Harlem state farm and a few minutes later made his break for freedom.

He dashed from the building, raced 100 yards to a car parked near the guards' quarters and sped away in it to the Houston-San Antonio highway two miles distant.

Captain Ed Seay, reporting the break, said the car Cash stole belonged to J. M. Holcomb of Sherman. The machine, a Chevrolet coupe, bore the license number 472-002.

FATHER QUADRUPLTS HAPPY OVER EVENT; GIRLS GIVEN NAMES

TOTAL WEIGHT OF GALVESTON BABIES 16 POUNDS 2 1/2 OUNCES

GALVESTON, Feb. 2.—(P)—Proud Papa W. E. Badgett, 35, a little stunned when it happened but happy when friends hailed him as the father of Texas' first quadruplet girls, named his daughters last night and wondered today who was who.

Alike as peas in a pod, the youngsters gurgled in nursery cribs while Papa Badgett tried to determine which was Joyce, Jeanette, Joan or Geraldine, the names he and Mama Badgett gave the four babes last night.

As congratulations and gifts poured in for the little girls, Dr. W. J. Jenkins, Sr., said he was worried over the mother's condition because of swelling of her limbs and face.

He expected she would be out of danger, however, within three or four days, he said.

The house of representatives at Austin congratulated the parents and extended best wishes.

PRESIDENT CONFERS ON 'WORLD AFFAIRS' AND DEFENSE PLANS

WARPLANES SALE, CAUSE OF MUCH CONTROVERSY, NOT MENTIONED THURSDAY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(P)—President Roosevelt and members of a house appropriations subcommittee studied today "world affairs" and "technical developments" in connection with the army defense program.

He conferred for about an hour with Chairman Taylor (D-Colo.) of the full house appropriations committee, and an eight-member subcommittee headed by Representative Snyder (D-Pa.) which has been framing the war department appropriation bill.

"We were just talking over the technical details as to the general situation in world affairs and what this committee is considering," said Taylor.

"It was a very ordinary and friendly discussion of the situation."

Both Taylor and Snyder said the President did not go into a broad outline of the background of foreign policy as he did at the white house meeting Tuesday with the senate military committee.

Snyder added there was no mention of the sale of planes to France.

Mr. Roosevelt's talk with the senate committee on the purchase of warplanes in this country by democrats aroused a great flurry of debate in Congress on whether the American aviation could supply the army with 3,000 new planes and fill foreign orders at the same time.

Snyder would not predict when the army bill would be ready but said it would carry a provision to make $50,000,000 immediately available to get mass production.

GOVERNMENT FORCES OF SPAIN URGED TO MAKE NEW STAND

SPANISH PARLIAMENT GAVE PREMIER NEGRIN UNANIMOUS CONFIDENCE VOTE

FIGUERAS, Spain, Feb. 2.—(P)—(By Courier to the French Border)—With the full backing of the Spanish parliament, Premier Juan Negrin today urged government forces to make a new stand against the insurgent armies driving northward through Catalonia.

The Cortes, which adjourned early this morning after a dramatic meeting in an underground chamber of the ancient fort of Figueras, gave the premier a unanimous vote of confidence despite loss of Barcelona and other recent setbacks.

The premier told the deputies a new line of defense was being erected in northern Catalonia which should check the insurgent advance.

He frankly acknowledged that panic had shaken the civilian population and armed forces in the last week but said the government had taken measures to end the panic which he attributed largely to "organized lies and rumors" spread by insurgent sympathizers.

He enumerated the government's three war aims as:

REP. JO ED WINFREE ATTACKED GOVERNOR ON FLOOR OF HOUSE

STATEMENT IN CONNECTION NEGRO REPRIEVE WAS SEVERELY CONDEMNED

AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—(P)—Rep. Jo Ed Winfree of Houston, chairman of the penitentiaries committee of the house of representatives, today strongly condemned Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel's statement yesterday in connection with the granting of a 30-day reprieve to a negro sentenced to death.

"The statement attributed to the governor," Winfree said on the house floor, "is the most heinous, foulest and most inhuman thought that has emanated from the brain of a man in this state in the last two decades."

O'Daniel has said in a press statement that "few forms of punishment could be more harsh than to see certain death staring you in the face day and night for 30 days and I therefore grant a 30-day reprieve in order that Winzell Williams may suffer that dreadful punishment 30 days before he is relieved by death in the electric chair."

The governor opposes capital punishment. Under the constitution, however, he has no power to set aside a death sentence unless the pardon board recommends it. He can grant only one 30-day stay.

Winfree recalled that "when a schoolboy read of despotism in Rome putting people to death in the arena to see them suffer." The 47-year-old Houston lawyer and stockman said he was not speaking as head of any committee, but as a citizen.

Williams was convicted of murdering E. B. Atwood, Dallas county dairyman, while he slept. O'Daniel said the crime was a

O'Daniel Decrees Condemned Man To Suffer 30 Days

AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—(P)—A negro slayer had 30 more days of life today because the governor of Texas, who opposes capital punishment for religious reasons, decreed the condemned man should suffer further the "dreadful punishment" of impending death.

Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel granted the reprieve yesterday to Winzell Williams, who was to have been granted a 30-day stay in this case, as per my constitutional right, in order that Minzell Williams may suffer this dreadful punishment 30 days before he is relieved by death in the electric chair.

"Also I am frank to admit that I believe the Bible literally and do not intend to be a party directly or indirectly to killing a man, but the matter according to law is out of my hands and beyond my power at the expiration of this 30-day reprieve."

The state board of pardons recommended no clemency for Williams. In view of this the governor has power under the law to issue only one 30-day reprieve.

Then slaves before the Civil war. He said a retaliatory feeling existed between landlord and tenant and called the future outlook of agriculture "gloomy" unless this condition changed.

A solution of the tenant problem would lead to a decreased exodus of farm labor to the city, thereby relieving an unemployment situation in the urban areas. The United States department of agriculture, characterized the condition of the tenant farmer as worse

DR. KARL TERZAGHI, FAMOUS AUTHORITIES ON SOIL MECHANICS BE A.&M. ENGINEER CONSULTANT

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 2.—(P)—Dr. Karl Terzaghi, one of the world's greatest authorities on soil mechanics and structural foundation engineering, has become associated as consultant for a period of one year with the engineering department of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College. It was announced today by Dean Gibb Gilchrist.

Coincident with announcement of retention of Dr. Terzaghi, Dean Gilchrist issued an invitation to all engineers and advanced engineering students of the state to attend three lectures here February 10, 11 and 14 under the auspices of the A. and M. College civil engineering department.

Dr. Terzaghi will remain here for at least one week and opportunity will be offered for conferences, notes to be distributed and consultation with visiting engineers, students and any others whose work deals with the design of foundations.

aghi will be available as consultant to the A. and M. college staff in matters pertaining to development of instruction and research work in the important field of soil mechanics.

Dr. Terzaghi graduated in 1905 from Technische Hochschule at Graz, Austria.

It was in 1925 that publication of a book "Erdbaumechanik" and engineering news record in 1926 aroused interest of the engineering profession all over the world in problems of earth work engineering.

As a result of this recognition Dr. Terzaghi was invited to join the staff of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and organized the first university laboratory of soil mechanics in the United States. Shortly after arrival at Cambridge, Dr. Terzaghi was appointed research consultant to the bureau of public roads in Washington, D. C., a position he held until 1929.

George Burns is fined $8,000 on smuggling charge.

Given suspended sentence of one year and placed on probation year.

New York, Jan. 31.—(P)—George Burns, radio comedian, was fined $8,000 and given a suspended sentence of one year and one day and placed on probation for one year by Federal Judge William Bondy today on his plea of guilty to two indictments charging the smuggling of jewelry into this country.

Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph W. Delaney had recommended a $12,000 fine and the suspended sentence.

Burns pleaded guilty several weeks ago to the indictments in which he was named with Albert N. Chaperau, self-styled Nicaraguan consular officials, and Mrs. Elma N. Lauer, wife of State Supreme Court Justice Edgar J. Lauer.

Both Chaperau and Mrs. Lauer have pleaded guilty, also.

Other indictments in the case named Jack Benny, radio comedian, who has pleaded innocent. Benny's trial has been set for Feb. 14.

Under the nine counts in the two indictments against him, Burns had faced a possible maximum sentence of 18 years imprisonment and fines totaling $45,000.

At the time Burns made his plea, Delaney asked consideration because the comedian had cooperated with the government in a wide investigation of smuggling. Specifically, Burns was indicted for smuggling two bracelets and a ring valued by the government at $4,885.

Burns already has paid $2,770 in penalties to the customs authorities.

Burns was not accused of actually smuggling the jewelry into this country himself, but of attempting evasion of customs duties and of receiving, concealing and transporting the jewelry after it had been smuggled by others.

His attorneys said he had bought the jewelry and had "no purpose or intent to offend against the laws."

REP. ROSS HARDIN ATTACKED O'DANIEL FLOUR ACTIVITIES

RESOLUTION ACCUSES GOVERNOR OF 'IGNORANTLY VIOLATING' CONSTITUTION

AUSTIN, Feb. 1. (AP)—Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel was denounced on the house floor today by Rep. Ross Hardin of Prairie Hill for assertedly continuing to reap a profit from the Hill-billy Flour company.

Hardin, now serving his third term in the house introduced a resolution accusing O'Daniel of "ignorantly violating" that provision of the state constitution which provides that a governor shall not hold any corporate office.

The resolution was referred to the house state affairs committee without anyone other than Hardin speaking.

O'Daniel resigned the presidency of the flour company before becoming governor. The resolution stated, however, that he still was a stockholder and therefore profited from the company's operations.

The resolution would declare it to be the sentiment of the house that O'Daniel is violating the constitution "by using his name and prestige as governor for merchandising purposes, on a flour sack, and for personal gain."

The governor would request that the resolution "be taken from putting his name on any more Hill-billy flour."

"Four It On 'Em." Several house members laughingly called "four it on 'em, Ross" while Hardin was speaking and after he poured it in was jokingly suggested that his time be extended.

The Limestone county representative seized the resolution as an opportunity to demand that the old age pension and transactions tax proposal and to criticize the governor for assertedly accepting a car from the Ford Motor company while a tax claim against the company is pending.

Hardin called the transaction tax "iniquitous" and said that the $30 a month income now promised the old age pensioners was as different from $30 a month pension "daylight from dark."

The transaction tax which pensioners would have to pay would amount to 8 per cent, he claimed.

Spirit Not Violated. Rep. Howard Hartzog of Port Lavaca, chairman of the committee to which the resolution was sent, said he felt O'Daniel had not violated the spirit of the constitution.

"I don't believe the framers of the constitution meant that a man had to forfeit all his private property when he became governor," Hartzog asserted.

Hardin called on O'Daniel to name the "professional politicians" whom he was attacking.

"The only ones I know of whom he might place in that category," Hardin said, "are Jerry Sadler, Jerry Mann, Galbreath (Rep. W. J. Galbreath of Wharton) and these two highway patrolmen who tried to collect expense money for hauling Pat and Mike O'Daniel to Fort Worth for a political and professional broadcast."

Sadler and Mann are state officials whose nominations was opposed by O'Daniel.

American Bomber Planes Aiding In Quake Rescues

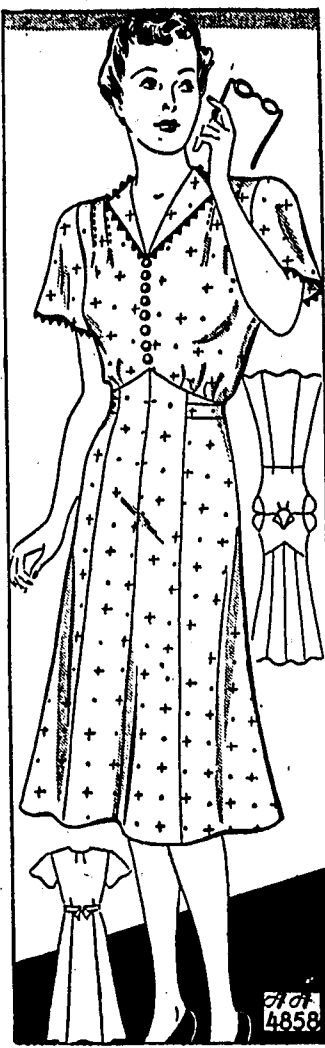

SANTIAGO, Chile, Feb. 2. (AP)—Two United States army bombers, an American commercial plane and an Argentine hospital plane today started bringing out injured survivors from small towns in the region devastated by an earthquake Jan. 24.

Conditions in most of the small towns were so bad that rescue work there had been slow due to the pressing needs in hard-hit cities such as Chillan and Concepcion.

Efforts reported many of the injured were suffering from gangrenous infections. The United States army planes last week

MEMBERS HOSPITAL BOARD REAPPOINTED BY COMMISSIONERS

COURT EXPRESSED PRAISE AND APPRECIATION FOR WORK ACCOMPLISHED

Reappointment of three members of the Navarro county hospital board whose terms have expired, appointment of a constable for precinct 7, discussion of a proposed establishment of a general disease clinic at the P. and S. hospital location, and other matters were considered at the regular meeting of the commissioners court Wednesday morning. The court was in session Wednesday afternoon.

Members of the hospital board were reappointed for two years: J. P. Banks, vice president, Corsicana, and Dr. Gurley H. Sanders of Kerens. Hold-over members of the board are C. C. Weaver, Dawson, president; Paul Moore, Corsicana, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. O. C. Bowmer, Corsicana, county health officer.

The motion passed was that the trio of board members be reappointed by acclamation after Commissioner J. N. George said the board had done a great work and he wanted to keep the same membership as did the people over the entire county following the bringing of the institution out of debt in the manner in which it is operated.

Praises Board. County Judge Paul H. Miller, commenting on the action of the court, said it was with "grateful appreciation for the untiring efforts of the board and accept the congratulations of the court for the laudable good accomplished."

Commissioner C. O. Slaughter made a motion that $25 per month be appropriated to augment the salary of the health officer and a

Assisting in the relief work today was a Pan-American-Grace airliner.

Ambassador Norman Armour, who made a personal inspection of the earthquake area, departed today by plane for Washington where it was believed he planned to report on the disaster.

Several ballots on the county farm spuerintendency were taken Wednesday morning. Four men were nominated by the four commissioners—L. A. Gideon, present incumbent, by Commissioner George Tom Hill by Commissioner Hayes; John Christian by Commissioner Fitzgerald and Mark Lawrence by Commissioner Slaughter.

On the second round, George and Hayes voted for Gideon while the other two commissioners voted for their previous favorites as they did the third ballot. Tom J. Blissett entered an application for the job but did not receive any nomination.

J. S. Simkins, attorney, appeared again for Dee Talbot, a negro, regarding a claim incident to the construction of highway 76 through the southeastern part of the county. Talbot allegedly the property of Talbot. Simkins agreed to settle the matter for $200, but the court postponed action on the matter for further study and deliberation.

GREAT SAN QUENTIN PRISON POWDER KEG RESULT FOOD STRIKE

NEARLY FOUR THOUSAND
CONVICTS REFUSE EAT FOOD
PROVIDED FOR THEM

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Feb. 2. (AP)—About 3,500 convicts continued their hunger strike at the state prison here today and were kept in their cells when they refused to work.

More than 1,700 prisoners, most of whom were not involved when the convicts complained yesterday about food served them, ate breakfast and were assigned to jobs.

Warden Court Smith declared he believed the food question was not at the bottom of the dissatisfaction.

"I believe a few organizers are responsible," he said. "Possibly they hope to gain publicity for the prison and hence gain attention and more privileges and entertainment."

Several days ago complaints were heard about the corned beef hash served at meals.

Smith said the regular "hash Wednesday" menu was changed yesterday because of many complaints which had reached his ears, and the meal the men refused to eat was spaghetti and meat loaf, pickles, white bread, brown beans and tea.

"That's a very good meal, isn't it?" he added.

The convicts apparently didn't think so. As the strike grew, the noise in the prison swelled to a crescendo as convicts booed, whistled, and howled.

Warden Smith said so long as the men observed discipline, he would not threaten punishment.

WINTER TAKES ON ANOTHER SPURT OF SNOW AND COLD

By The Associated Press
Winter took the groundhog legend to heart today and at the first shadow began another siege of heaping snow and cold on parts of California and Arizona, stirring up storms on the Great Lakes and pouring snow and rain on the east.

Heavy rains have fallen from eastern Texas northward to the lower Ohio valley, while moderate to heavy snows were reported from most of Minnesota and the Dakotas. The major disturbance was over the upper Great Lakes.

Warmer temperatures were forecast for the west tonight.

Biting southwest winds whipped across the upper Great Lakes, imperiling at least one vessel. Coast guard craft went to the aid of a tugboat on Lake Michigan off Manitowish, Wis.

Temperatures in the south were from 4 to 12 degrees warmer than yesterday and much above the seasonal normal.

Storm warnings were raised along the Pacific coast from San Francisco to the Canadian border.

Little Citrus Damage. (AP)—Southern California's citrus crop, estimated as the largest ever, suffered little damage from last night's sub-freezing temperatures, Floyd Young, meteorologist at the department of agriculture, announced today.

Young said his preliminary data today indicated no orchard heating would be necessary tonight to protect the navel orange and lemon crops. He said only light heating was necessary last night, although the temperature slumped as low as 24 degrees in some areas.

Town Saved by Ice Wall. GRAND MARAIS, Minn., Feb. 2. (AP)—This town of 800 was saved from being flooded during the night by a wall of ice 30 feet high and 50 feet thick that held off storm-lashed waves from Lake Superior.

Danger from the towering waves threatened repetition of the flood that last year caused destruction of property was believed past today as the 40-mile an hour wind subsided and the temperature continued to drop.

The ice wall extended for miles along the shore and the lowering temperature helped guarantee that it would protect the town.

ceiling of the second floor and the roof. Firemen said the blaze started on the second floor.

Fire department officials estimated the damage to the building, owned by Mrs. M. Levi, at $2,500; loss to the Officers Club quarters was estimated at $1,700; and damage to the Vogue Cafe, principally water and smoke, was estimated at $1,000. Most of the losses were believed covered by insurance.

JUST FOLKS
(Copyright, 1937, Edgar A. Guest)
PURPOSE
Merely to live; to eat; to sleep; To plan and toll for "get and keep"
Never seem quite enough. Al- ways
Man seeks some truer words of Than "strong" or "c l e v e r."
Through his mind Ruins deep the thought: he would be kind.
The world would urge him to be great; Offers command of town and state
And power and wealth and hours But these not wholly seem to please.
Man still, before the day he dies, Often for something nobler tries.
The goal of all he fancies best Is not alone by gain expressed. There must be, ere the labors end, Those who are proud to call him friend,
For every man would leave be- hind Some memories here that he was kind.

JEWS IN PALESTINE
The Hebrew race evidently has not lost its ancient courage. Dr. Nahman Goldmann, administrative head of the World Jewish Congress, tells a press conference at Geneva, Switzerland: "If Great Britain will withdraw her troops from Palestine, and permit the entry of 100,000 German Jews, the Jews themselves are prepared to undertake defense of the holy land."
Britain will not agree. The British want to keep control of Palestine themselves, under their mandate. They want the wealth they can get from trade, the mineral riches of the Dead Sea, and so on. And to pull out would seem like a surrender to the Arabs, who are pressing their empire on many fronts.
It seems like a large order, too, for the Jews. But they took and held that country 3,000 years ago, in the face of strong opposition, and perhaps could do it again. The Zionist settlers seem to have been doing about as much police work lately as the British troops, and might give a surprisingly good account of themselves.
One of the most stirring tales from the Holy Land last year was the story of the Jewish farmers stopping nocturnal Arab raids and murders by a barbed wire fence 50 miles long, charged with electric current and dynamite bombs that exploded when the Arabs used their pliers to cut the wire.

MUSICAL BOOM.
Piano makers are feeling cheerful lately. Their business is picking up more than most lines. They sold more instruments in the last quarter of 1938 than in any similar period since 1929, and more in December than in any other month of those nine years. Moreover, unfilled orders at the beginning of this year were one-third more than a year ago.
This is not really a boom, compared with pre-depression standards, but it is so much better than expectation that it seems like one. There is said to be a good sale, too, for small organs now, both the little, old-fashioned ones operated by foot-pumping and the marvelous new electric organs that occupy little space but will almost do the work of a pipe organ. Other instruments are doing well, too.
Really, we're coming to be a very musical nation. The progress made in musical taste and enjoyment is incredible; we have gained in 15 years more than we did in the previous hundred. We now have the best music in the world, and the most of it. The best musical artists, conductors and composers live here or come here, and our production and consumption of music is, perhaps, like our steel and grain and cotton and motor cars, more than that of all the rest of the world.

JOB FOR THE DUKE.
The rugged individualists, or maybe they were rugged royalists, who organized the dinner in New York to fix up a job for the Duke of Windsor, meant well, anyway. Friends of the Duke of Windsor in America, they call themselves. It has been clear for some time that the Duke needs friends, and perhaps he also needs a job. An active man can't sit along forever just playing golf and croquet and reading the papers and talking to his wife.
The seriousness, Edward probably like to work

MORE BOATING
In 1937 the outboard motor trade enjoyed the best year of its history. In 1938 it missed the recession and proceeded to surpass its 1937 record. The prospects for 1939 are excellent. New York has just had the best motor boat show ever held there, in both attendance and sales.
This pleasant record is evidence of America's rapidly developing enthusiasm for water sports—motor boating, sailing, canoeing, swimming, and so on. There are still millionaires with yachts, but they are many times outnumbered by the rest of us who have taken to the water in all sorts of lesser craft.
regularly for international peace, which is the sort of job the ladies engaged in this enterprise have in mind for him. And he might be very good at it. He has not been known particularly as a skilful negotiator, but first gained a reputation as "salesman for the British Empire." He might do as well as anybody in selling peace and good will just now, when that commodity is needed more than anything else in the world. His wife, too, would be an able assistant.
If Edward is to have any such job, though, he would rather get it from his own country. He would probably succeed better at it, too, if he were working for Britain rather than America.
It's pleasant to learn, just at this time of year, that Lincoln Ellsworth has annexed 80,000 square miles of everlasting snow and ice in the Antarctic.
There wouldn't be any dictators if there weren't so many people who want to take dictation.

ECONOMICS
It seems as if Westbrook Pegler, former sport writer and now distinguished columnist, has said the last word on current economic problems. We venture to reproduce a few lines of his elucidation—or whatever it is.
He leads with his left, referring to Thurman Arnold's position, "a little to the left of totalitarian wage leveling in the subnormal areas of intellectual orientation," and then follows with a right hook to the understanding, thus:
"I find myself in partial agreement up to the point where this theory defies the fundamental standpoint of economic tyranny in the intermittent cycles of politico-corporate finance." Nevertheless:
"There is no proved formula in all economic knowledge for the absolute implementation of compulsory expansion and social competition." Wherefore:
"Every attempt to violate this elementary absolute of simple economics has produced a profound deterioration in the federal reserve, where there is always a wise tendency to discount industrial feudalism, if accompanied by democratic guarantees and a fair volume of electoral resources. None but a visionary theorist will argue against the demonstrated realities of a field of abstract solecism conditioned by the fiduciary habits of human dignity."
There is much more to the same general effect, but the samples quoted may suffice to teach most of us all we shall ever know about this painful branch of human ignorance.

MILITARIST EDUCATION
In German kindergartens, says Erica Mann, exiled German, the children are not taught that two and two apples make four, but that two and two bombs make four. Thus their minds are militarized. From the time they can walk and talk, they are trained for war.
They are also trained for racial hate. The child's first picture book is entitled: "Trust Not the Fox on His Green Nor the Jew on His Oath." Hatred of other nations is enjoined as a virtue.
All German education is based on 25 pages of the rather illiterate Nazi Bible, "Mein Kampf," in which Hitler has ordered that every child shall be taught, starting with the primer, that "Almighty God will one day bless our weapons." Children do not play

AUTOGIROS AND ROTORPLANES
An old dream begins to realize itself with arrangements for regular air mail service by means of an autogiro, operating between the Philadelphia postoffice and the airport in Camden, N. J. The bid, submitted by Eastern Airlines, was $3.86 a mile. The craft is expected to use the roof of the postoffice for a landing stage.
The autogiro may be described as an airplane driven in the usual way by a motor, but having in addition to small stabilizing wings a set of rotating planes above which support and stabilize the craft.
A development related to this is the helicopter or rotary airplane worked out in Germany, of which astonishing stories are told. The Rothe-Wulff helicopter, which has no wings, and is propelled by two rotating planes mounted above the ship, has broken all records for such craft. A firm showing its operation is described by the Scientific American as follows:
The machine performed the marvelous evolutions inside a hall; flew forward at 75 miles an hour, backward at 18 miles an hour, hovered, turned around on its own axis, all under perfect control. That highly distinguished aeronautic engineer Grover Loening confirmed the astounding characteristics of the machine. On one occasion he stood beside Professor Focke when an inexperienced pilot was in the cockpit. Not knowing what to do, he brought his machine completely to rest some ten feet from the ground, and called out: "Was soll ich thun?" The professor told him and he landed safely.
Most of us could probably operate such a craft.

Local Citizens In Ft. Worth Monday

At noon, visitors were guests of Frigidare, Inc. at a luncheon given in the dining room of the Fort Worth city auditorium building.

SENATOR ROBERTS DECLARES DID NOT SEEK TO REBUKE ABOLITION TAX COMMISSIONER OFFICE NOT INTENDED AS SLAP AT O'DANIEL
AUSTIN, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Senator Morris Roberts of Texas, asserted from the senate floor today the senate's action in abolishing the office of state tax commissioner was not a slap at Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel.
He added the committee conferred with Governor O'Daniel before his inauguration and the chief executive agreed that the office should be abolished or its expenses shaved.
Gov. O'Daniel reiterated, following passage of the bill, he named Halle to the post with the understanding it would be abolished.
"I make this statement so you will know exactly what I had in mind," he said.
"It was no rebuke to the governor," he was applauded.

Long Inactive Chile Volcano Active Again
SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The governor of Biobio province sent a warning telegram today to the minister of interior that the 9,807-foot Antuco volcano was active after almost two centuries of inactivity following disastrous earthquakes of the past week.
An earthquake of moderate intensity was felt last night at La Serena, in the northern zone where thousands of workmen still labored to remove an estimated 25,000 to 30,000 bodies of persons killed last Tuesday. The population of La Serena feared further quakes.
A precautionary measure, the minister of health ordered that all persons within the stricken area or passing through it must be vaccinated against typhus and small-pox.

SOCIAL SECURITY MEASURES SUBJECT INSTITUTE MONDAY
AGENCY REPRESENTATIVES EXPLAIN LAWS TO CORSICANA CITIZENS
By CHARLTON GUNTER, Daily Sun Staff
Social security measures administered by federal and state governments were explained Monday night by a corps of agency representatives at an institute sponsored by the Kinsloe House Association of Clubs in the Junior High School auditorium. A large number of Corsicana citizens were joined by delegations from several communities over the county for the meeting.
Tom L. Tyson, Corsicana attorney, acted as chairman for the institute, and introduced Miss Margie E. Neal of Carthage as "one of Texas' outstanding women citizens, a former state senator, and one whom many had hoped would be the state's second woman governor." She was presented as the representative of the educational division of the federal Social Security Board.
Purpose of Institute
In outlining the purpose of the institute, Miss Neal said the meetings were being sponsored because they had found few people who understood the various ramifications of the Social Security Act. She asserted the hundred and thirty million residents of the United States were vitally concerned with social security, and all were affected and responsible. She traced the history of social security legislation, stating the measures were not new and not without precedents, and referred to old court records where assistance was granted various groups or individuals. Permissive programs were available in counties in almost every state, she said, prior to the enactment of the federal statute.
The first comprehensive study of the problem was started by President Roosevelt, according to the speaker, and the measure started out as an "economic" security measure but emerged from congress as an eight months debate and study of social security bill with ten distinct but allied programs, and all but one controlled by the states. Old age insurance was pointed out as the only one strictly federal, and this because of the difficulty of administration.
Federal Supervision
The five sections of the social security program under federal supervision were listed as unemployment compensation, old age insurance, old age assistance, aid for dependent children, and aid to the blind. The five units administered by the state were listed as child welfare services working through the board of control, the crippled children's work headed by J. J. Brown in the state department, public health work, and vocational rehabilitation.
At the conclusion of the introduction of the subject, Julius C. Jacobs, local attorney was presented as the leader of the panel discussions on each of the phases of work.
In answer to questions propounded by the leader, John V. Fain, district supervisor and ex-minister of the Texas Unemployment Compensation commission, traced the history of unemployment compensation statutes which are now effective in every state; he said they began early in the nineteenth century with trades unions in Europe and later were adopted as national programs in several countries.
Benefits Paid
He stated the levy for this benefit was three per cent of the salary of each worker and that the state received nine per cent of this amount; he reported that the past year over $10,000,000 in benefits were paid in Texas and over a million checks issued. He said the Texas act was administered by the state unemployment commission, and that the Texas state department of Service was a co-ordinate division. He said each employer of eight or more persons through as many as twenty weeks of the year was required to pay the levy, except in those times exempted by law which included agricultural workers, domestic servants and such. He said all of the 90 per cent collected by the state went for relief of the unemployed while the last 10 per cent administration was borne by the federal government from the ten per cent of the levy received. He said the employer bore the entire cost of the unemployment insurance.
He stated that it was necessary to secure the unemployment compensation, including the registering for re-employment, waiting periods and penalties for refusing to work when offered. He said the employer could receive benefits under the act, and said that from $4.50 to $15 per week depending on the earning record of the applicant, with a maximum of sixteen weeks of aid in any one year.
Old Age Assistance
Mrs. Sam Cox of Mexia, representative of the Old Age Assistance Commission, discussed this phase of the program. She said the program was financed jointly by the state and federal governments, and while the federal 48 states varied in some minor details all had to comply with the same prerequisites. She declared the benefits were granted on a basis of need only; she said some 114,000 persons received check in December, and that the cost of the program was approximately $18,000,000 in 1938, with administering costs of only five per cent, and half of this amount borne by the federal government.
Mrs. Cox declared these benefits were strictly regarded as emergency measures and would in time be supplanted by old age insurance benefits.
The status of the programs for neglected and dependent children and also for the dependent needy blind was outlined by Mrs. Cox. She stated constitutional amendments providing such benefits had been adopted, but that no appropriation had been made by the legislature for making the programs effective, although the state

Senator Borah Ill; Threatened With Pneumonia
WASHINGTON, Feb. 1.—(AP)—Senator William E. Borah entered emergency hospital today suffering from a "very severe case of grippes."
The 73-year-old dean of the senate was taken to the hospital in an ambulance, accompanied by Mrs. Borah and Dr. Worth Danfols, his physician who declined immediate comment on the senator's condition.
The Idaho senator was heavily wrapped in blankets and was carried into the receiving room by attendants.
Mrs. Borah, who described the senator's condition, said he had been to bed since yesterday.
Asked whether Borah had pneumonia, she said "that's what we're trying to ward off."
Mrs. Borah had this to say of the senator's condition: "He is no better this morning and we are taking him to the hospital. He has been in bed since yesterday."
Aides at the senator's office said he was not expected to be able to return to work for several weeks.
The 73-year-old Idaho Republican has served in the senate continuously since 1907.

would have full co-operation of the federal agencies.
Old Age Insurance
In the absence of a specific representative of the agency, Miss Neal presented the subject of old age insurance, pointing out that it was the largest program in the act, and that it was designed to protect the aged in unemployment insurance, and in the event of death, she said the greatest criticism of the program was that it was not broad enough and that congress is now engaged on a study of proposed enlargements.
Miss Neal pointed out the program provided for annuities at the age of 65, or lump sum payments prior to 1942 equivalent to three and one half per cent of the workers earning from January 1937 to the date of death. She said the payments were made only on retirement from active work.
The program is financed by a levy on a sliding scale, which is one per cent of the salary at present with a maximum of three per cent to be reached eventually. This one per cent levy, according to the speaker, is paid both by the worker and by the employer. She said maximum benefits would range from $10 to $35 per month as long as the recipient lived after the age of 65.
Program for Children
After an open forum session in which several questions were asked from the audience, Miss Neal outlined the program provided for the children and for the blind. She stated that the state constitutional amendment had placed limits on the benefits to children, but not on the blind. She said the amendments provided for a department of public welfare but the legislature had only provided for a division of public welfare under the state board of control and had not made any appropriation to make it effective. She declared none of the social security programs were more worthy or more needed. She said these two programs were now effective in all states and in Alaska and Hawaii.
At the conclusion of the meeting, Miss Neal complimented the Kinsloe House association for sponsoring the institute, and also complimented the citizenry of the city and county for the large audience and interest shown in the subject. She said it was the most successful of the meetings staged up to this time.

Jones Ranch Woman Makes Poultry Pay
"I began my poultry demonstration in the fall of 1937 with 37 hens," reported Mrs. Otis Hill, poultry demonstrator of the Jones Ranch, Home Demonstration club.
During 1938 I raised 134 baby chicks in the spring and 65 in the fall; a total of 199. I sold $8.50 worth of hens, $9.95 worth of fliers, $8.25 worth of eggs. This made a total of $24.74. My total expenses were $8.99. This leaves a profit of $15.75," concluded Mrs. Hill.

Long Inactive Chile Volcano Active Again
SANTIAGO, Chile, Jan. 31.—(AP)—The governor of Biobio province sent a warning telegram today to the minister of interior that the 9,807-foot Antuco volcano was active after almost two centuries of inactivity following disastrous earthquakes of the past week.
An earthquake of moderate intensity was felt last night at La Serena, in the northern zone where thousands of workmen still labored to remove an estimated 25,000 to 30,000 bodies of persons killed last Tuesday. The population of La Serena feared further quakes.
A precautionary measure, the minister of health ordered that all persons within the stricken area or passing through it must be vaccinated against typhus and small-pox.

Local Citizens In Ft. Worth Monday
Corsicana visitors to the Frigidare convention in Fort Worth Monday were Nathan Crouch, manager of the Frigidare and electrical department of J. M. Dyer Co.; Ernest Matthews of J. M. Dyer Co.; B. L. Cook, district service representative for Frigidare, and Clyde Gimes, manager of the Co-operative Rural Electrification project for this district.
A record attendance of approximately 2,000 was reported by Mr. Crouch at the lecture sessions at which Frigidare and General Motors presented the world's first cold-water refrigerator, designed to prevent drying and shrinking of foods.
At noon, visitors were guests of Frigidare, Inc. at a luncheon given in the dining room of the Fort Worth city auditorium building.

Senator Roberts Declares Did Not Seek To Rebuke Abolition Tax Commissioner Office Not Intended As Slap At O'Daniel
AUSTIN, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Senator Morris Roberts of Texas, asserted from the senate floor today the senate's action in abolishing the office of state tax commissioner was not a slap at Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel.
He added the committee conferred with Governor O'Daniel before his inauguration and the chief executive agreed that the office should be abolished or its expenses shaved.
Gov. O'Daniel reiterated, following passage of the bill, he named Halle to the post with the understanding it would be abolished.
"I make this statement so you will know exactly what I had in mind," he said.
"It was no rebuke to the governor," he was applauded.

Autogiros and Rotorplanes
An old dream begins to realize itself with arrangements for regular air mail service by means of an autogiro, operating between the Philadelphia postoffice and the airport in Camden, N. J. The bid, submitted by Eastern Airlines, was $3.86 a mile. The craft is expected to use the roof of the postoffice for a landing stage.
The autogiro may be described as an airplane driven in the usual way by a motor, but having in addition to small stabilizing wings a set of rotating planes above which support and stabilize the craft.
A development related to this is the helicopter or rotary airplane worked out in Germany, of which astonishing stories are told. The Rothe-Wulff helicopter, which has no wings, and is propelled by two rotating planes mounted above the ship, has broken all records for such craft. A firm showing its operation is described by the Scientific American as follows:
The machine performed the marvelous evolutions inside a hall; flew forward at 75 miles an hour, backward at 18 miles an hour, hovered, turned around on its own axis, all under perfect control. That highly distinguished aeronautic engineer Grover Loening confirmed the astounding characteristics of the machine. On one occasion he stood beside Professor Focke when an inexperienced pilot was in the cockpit. Not knowing what to do, he brought his machine completely to rest some ten feet from the ground, and called out: "Was soll ich thun?" The professor told him and he landed safely.
Most of us could probably operate such a craft.

Economics
It seems as if Westbrook Pegler, former sport writer and now distinguished columnist, has said the last word on current economic problems. We venture to reproduce a few lines of his elucidation—or whatever it is.
He leads with his left, referring to Thurman Arnold's position, "a little to the left of totalitarian wage leveling in the subnormal areas of intellectual orientation," and then follows with a right hook to the understanding, thus:
"I find myself in partial agreement up to the point where this theory defies the fundamental standpoint of economic tyranny in the intermittent cycles of politico-corporate finance." Nevertheless:
"There is no proved formula in all economic knowledge for the absolute implementation of compulsory expansion and social competition." Wherefore:
"Every attempt to violate this elementary absolute of simple economics has produced a profound deterioration in the federal reserve, where there is always a wise tendency to discount industrial feudalism, if accompanied by democratic guarantees and a fair volume of electoral resources. None but a visionary theorist will argue against the demonstrated realities of a field of abstract solecism conditioned by the fiduciary habits of human dignity."
There is much more to the same general effect, but the samples quoted may suffice to teach most of us all we shall ever know about this painful branch of human ignorance.

STOCKMEN RECEIVE BETTER PRICES FOR SALES IN DENVER

DENVER, Feb. 2.—(P)—Heartened by generally better prices brought by fat stock sold this year at the National Western show, stockmen put 85 carloads of feeder stock up for auction today and expected them to bring an average of $2,500.

The feeder auction, one of the most important of the annual show, brought stock fatteners here from most of the corn belt states. Because of improved prices, stockmen were predicting total sales at the National Western would reach $3,000,000.

The 80 Hereford breeding bulls sold Tuesday for $42,500—including Colorado Domino 897th for $4,500—will be shipped to 13 states. They will go to improve herds in Nevada, Oregon, Texas, Utah, Kansas, Iowa, Montana, Nebraska, North and South Dakota, Maryland and Kentucky.

The average price for 17 cars of hogs, $8.03 a hundred-weight, was a drop from last year's $9.06 average, but buyers paid an average of $11.04 for 12 carloads of fat cattle, compared with $8.50 last year, and $9.94 for 15 carloads of sheep, compared with $9.18 last year.

As most of the girls know the kinds of vegetables planted by their mothers, they are looking forward to an easy time in planning their gardens.

Some of the girls told which goals they had decided on. How to answer the roll call for next meeting was also discussed.

CLOSER CHECK ON TAX FREE GASOLINE BY COUNTY MOTORS

Closer check and better reports for the securing of gasoline tax refund on the fuel used in road work in the four commissioners' precincts of Navarro county is anticipated with the inauguration of a new system by the four commissioners.

Effective immediately, books will be furnished the operators of each piece of gasoline-powered machinery whereby the amount of gasoline used during each day will be noted and the number of hours work done by each machine.

The state refunds the gasoline tax on the fuel used in road construction to the road and bridge fund and is a considerable item.

Considerable difficulty recently was experienced by the commissioners when the state authorities turned down applications for refunds for certain months because the reports were not exactly in accordance with the state requirements for such reports.

The use of the new blanks and records as ordered and printed is calculated to prevent the recurrence of such a condition on the refund problem.

ILLEGAL TRAFFIC IN NARCOTICS ALLEGED IN OHIO PRISON

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 2.—(AP)—On trail of what state welfare director Charles L. Sherwood said was illegal traffic in narcotics and liquor within Ohio penitentiary, Warden James C. Woodward launched an investigation today.

The director told Woodward during a conference late yesterday that he would move his job. "This is no reflection upon the integrity of Warden Woodward, and I have complete confidence that he will be able to clean up the mess."

William F. Amrine, newly appointed superintendent of corrections, was assigned to assist in the inquiry.

Sherwood said he had learned that in addition to narcotics and liquor traffic, special favors were being purchased by some convicts from guards who are not loyal to their warden.

Information given him in affidavits and statements by former and present employees of the prison led to his demand for a clean-up, Sherwood said.

ROUND ROBIN SCHEDULE OF FIVE MEMBERS WILL BE CONDUCTED

District 16-A's executive committee, University of Texas Interscholastic league, Wednesday afternoon in session at the local city hall, refused admittance for 1939 to the I.O.O.F. Home, Corsicana, a former member and district champion, and also declined to admit the Fairfield High School.

The district is composed of State Home (Corsicana), Ferris, Ennis, Groesbeck and Teague. J. S. Halley, superintendent of the State Home, chairman of the district, presided.

C. B. Couch, superintendent of the I.O.O.F. Home, presented the formal application. B. A. Jeffries, principal of the State Home, made a motion to admit the Odd Fellows. H. O. Whitworth of Groesbeck spoke of the financial losses incident to playing the Odd Fellows.

Secret Ballot Voted

On a secret ballot, it was brought by the canvass that the proposal was not unanimous and therefore it was denied, as under the interscholastic league referendum passed, it was necessary for a unanimous vote to be made for the admission of this school.

The Odd Fellows will probably plan "free lance" football outside the University of Texas Interscholastic league as the result of the denying of admission, as loops of lower classification have indicated they would oppose the placing of the Odd Fellows in their district.

After the result of the ballot was declared it was decided to play a round-robin type of football for the 1939 season, with each club playing the other four members.

An application from Fairfield High School, signed by P. D. Brown, superintendent, for membership in the district, was denied. Groesbeck and Teague favored Fairfield, but the other members were not enthusiastic. A secret vote was taken in this matter.

With the coaches and others retired, the members of the committee discussed certain eligibility questions.

The various coaches conferred following the meeting relative to their schedule for this fall, but have not made definite plans for the season at the present time.

Worst February Storm In Years Hits New Mexico

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 2.—(P)—The worst February storm since 1931 struck all of northern New Mexico today, leaving one dead, highway traffic crippled and a mantle of snow ranging upward from three inches to a foot.

Gov. John E. Miles appealed for community co-operation in digging out highways.

National Highway 60, main East-West artery across the state was again snow-locked east of the Sandia mountains and coated with ice and snow to west over the continental divide into Arizona.

Richard Reeves, a University of New Mexico student, was killed last night when his car plunged from the highway north of Springer.

Meanwhile, the mystery of a snow-etched distress signal, first seen two days ago by an Oklahoma flier, appeared solved when a mounted rider reached the ranch scene and learned Runaldo Padilla, 55, had died of pneumonia while waiting help which never came. The scene was about 45 miles southeast of Santa Fe.

FOREIGN CONSULS WARNED JAPAN WILL OPEN OFFENSIVE

SHANGHAI, Feb. 2.—(P)—Japanese warned foreign consuls today they planned an immediate offensive against Lushan Mountain and advised that the estimated 85 foreigners there be evacuated before February 10.

The foreigners, including more than a dozen Americans, are at Kuling, Chinese summer resort on top of the mountain, which is 14 miles south of Klukiang, Yangtze river port below Kowtow.

The Japanese asserted the evacuation and warned that the foreigners who remained would do so at their own risk since the Japanese cannot be responsible for damages or injuries.

The Japanese spokesman estimated the foreigners at Kuling included 37 British, 12 Americans, nine Germans and seven of other nationalities.

The spokesman asserted the Japanese could give no promises of safety in the event any refused to leave and no specific promise they would be permitted to return when peace and order are restored.

INCOME TAX IN A NUTSHELL

WHO? Every single person or married person not living with husband or wife who had net income of $1,000 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more, and generally, husband and wife living together, who had an aggregate net income of $2,500 or more or an aggregate gross income of $5,000 or more, must file returns. If in doubt, obtain form and printed instructions from collector of internal revenue.

WHEN? The filing period begins January 1 and ends March 15, 1939.

WHERE? Collector of Internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

Forms for Making Returns

Forms for filing returns of income for 1938 have been sent to persons who filed returns last year. Failure to receive a form, however, does not relieve a taxpayer of his obligation to file his return and pay the tax on time, or on or before March 15 if the return is made on the calendar year basis, as is the case with most individuals.

Forms may be obtained upon request, written or personal, from the offices of collectors of internal revenue and deputy collectors. A person whose net income for 1938 was derived from business, profession, rental or sale of property, is required to use Form 1040. Failure to use the proper forms presents difficulties to both the taxpayer and the Bureau of Internal Revenue. Therefore, it is emphasized that a taxpayer who is liable for a return and is engaged in a business or profession from which he derived a net income of less than $5,000 is required to use Form 1040.

The return must be filed with the collector of internal revenue for the district in which the taxpayer has his legal residence or principal place of business on or before midnight of March 15, 1939. The tax may be paid in full at the time of filing the return or in four equal installments, due on or before March 15, June 15, September 15 and December 15.

No. 3

When To Report Income From Salaries, Wages, Etc.

Of the millions of income-tax returns that are filed annually, the vast majority are from salaried persons and wage earners whose income is derived from personal services.

In general, compensation for personal services should be reported for taxation purposes in the year it is received or unqualifiedly made subject to demand. Compensation credited to the account of or set apart for a taxpayer, without any substantial limitation or restriction, and which may be drawn upon by him at any time, is subject to tax for the year during which so credited or set apart, although not then actually reduced to possession. If the services were rendered during the year 1937, or prior thereto, but the compensation was not received, or made unqualifiedly subject to demand, by the taxpayer until the year 1938, the entire amount is taxable in the year received or made unqualifiedly subject to demand, when the taxpayer is reporting on the cash receipts and disbursements basis, which is the basis used by most persons in reporting net income.

The names of all employees to whom payments of $1,000 or over a year are made must be reported. The information return should be made on Form 1099, accompanied by transmittal Form 1098 showing the number of returns filed. These returns should be filed on or before February 15, 1939.

All of the various types of compensation, unless specifically exempt by statute, or exempt by fundamental law, should be included in the taxpayer's return of gross income, such as salaries, wages, fees, commissions, bonuses, prize money, prizes, awards, retiring allowances for past services, etc. Where services are paid for in whole or in part with something other than money, the fair market value of the value taken in payment must be included as income. Other items subject to tax are fees received by ministers of the gospel for funeral services, marriages, and like services; executors' fees; directors' fees; Federal jury fees; and prizes received in contests of various kinds.

The salaries of Federal officers and employees are subject to tax, including the salary of the President of the United States and judges of courts of the United States taking office after the date of enactment of the Revenue Act of 1922, which is June 9, 1932. The salary of the Vice-president of the United States, and the salaries of Members of the House of Representatives and the Members of the United

Who Must File Returns

Returns are required of every individual who is single or who is married but not living with husband or wife for the year had a gross income of $5,000 or more, or of every individual who is married and living with husband or wife, if no joint return is made and if (1) such individual has a net income of $2,500 or more or gross income of $5,000 or more and the other spouse has no gross income, or (2) such individual and his spouse each has a gross income, regardless of the amount of net income, and the aggregate net income of the two is $2,500 or more, or (3) such individual and his spouse each has a gross income and the aggregate gross income is $5,000 or more. Widowers, widows, divorcees, and married persons separated by mutual consent are classed as single persons. The personal exemptions are $1,000 for single persons and $2,000 for married persons living together and for heads of families.

Husband and wife living together at the close of the taxable year may file a single joint return, regardless of the amount of net income, though one has no gross income, or make separate returns of the income of each. If separate returns are filed, one may not report income which belongs to the other, but must report only the income which actually belongs to him. If a joint return is filed, such return is treated as a taxable unit, and the normal tax and the surtax on the net income are computed on a joint return and joint and several. No joint return may be made if either husband or wife is a non-resident alien.

If a joint return is not made by an agent of the taxpayers it must be signed by both husband and wife and sworn to before a proper officer by the spouse preparing the return, or if neither or both prepare the return, then both spouses.

Where separate returns are filed by husband and wife, the joint personal exemption of $2,500 may be taken by either division between them in any proportion as agreed upon.

In filing a joint return husband and wife compute the earned income credit in the same manner as in filing separate returns.

The taxpayer's net income is not more than $3,000, the entire net income is considered to be earned net income.

Husband and wife may elect each year whether to file a joint return or separate returns. Where, however, joint or separate returns have been filed for a particular year, neither husband nor wife may after the due date of the return file an amended return or returns on a different basis for that year.

PRESIDENT-ELECT OF TEXAS UNIVERSITY ON CAMPUS THURSDAY

AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—(P)—D. Homer Price Rainey, president-elect of the University of Texas, appeared on the campus of that institution today, shook hands with members of the staff met students Pat, Mike and Molly O'Daniel, children of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and faced a battery of newspaper men in "prexy's office."

Currently director of the American Youth Commission in Washington, Dr. Rainey said he hoped to finish his work with the commission in time to take over the presidency June 1.

The former college baseball player who turned educator predicted "an enormous and rapid industrial expansion for Texas" during the next decade and said he would not be surprised if the state's population of 6,000,000 would jump to 10,000 "within 15 years."

"The university must expand accordingly," he said, "and to do that we must have more money. The legislature of Texas is faced with a tremendous problem. The increasing student bodies of its educational institutions will demand more and more funds."

"If regard the greatest immediate need of the University of Texas as an increased faculty. We have many distinguished men on the staff but we need more. And we need more teachers because the student load per teacher is heavy."

He promised his "heartly cooperation" to football Coach Dana X. Bible and expressed himself as well-satisfied with "the athletic conditions" at the school.

THE LIVER

Doctors are being constantly requested to give patients something to "move the liver," when, as a matter of fact, no drug you take, for its purging effect, gets any closer to the liver than the food you eat.

One of the chief functions of the liver is to manufacture bile, a most important fluid. The cells of the liver produce this bile, store some temporarily in the gall-bladder, while the balance is emptied into the digestive tract. After aiding digestion, most of this bile is reabsorbed by the blood, carried back to the liver to act as a stimulant for further production of bile.

Strong purgatives act as a violent irritant, and forces waste material through the intestines so fast the bile does not have time to be normally absorbed. The only reason the patient feels better, is because he has freed his system of accumulated waste matter, not because he has "stirred up his liver."

Strong purgatives will do no permanent good, and will, when constantly resorted to, weaken the entire digestive system. Your liver is probably perfectly normal, let it alone.

If you suffer from symptoms popularly believed to be "sluggish," "torpid" or "inactive" liver, form regular bodily habits. If the symptoms do not clear up, the trouble is probably elsewhere. Consult your doctor.

DANIEL PRAISED AND DENOUNCED IN LEGISLATIVE HALLS

SENATOR SMALL SAYS HE STARTED ECONOMY; HAR-
DIN SAYS VIOLATING LAW

AUSTIN, Feb. 7.—(AP)—While Governor W. Lee O'Daniel was the object of warm praise in the senate today he was denounced in the house for allegedly continuing to receive profit from the flour company he formerly headed.

Sen. Clint Small of Amarillo, dean of the upper chamber, flatly gave the chief executive credit for the senate's first move in the direction of governmental economy.

Rep. Ross Hardin introduced a resolution charging the governor with "isocratically violating" a provision of the constitution prohibiting a governor from receiving corporate compensation. It was sent to the state affairs committee without comment from members other than Hardin.

Small, explaining he was not present the day the senate approved a bill abolishing the office of state tax commissioner, arose on point of personal privilege and said he wanted to give credit where it was due.

"The governor ran on a platform including economy in government and I want to give him credit for the speedy manner in which he started out to redeem one of his campaign pledges," he said.

Wanted Office Abolished.

"The governor told me he wanted the office abolished and that his appointee (Elmer M. Halle of Hereford) was pledged to accomplish what this bill does."

"We the senate, at least the old members, have known that job should be abolished. We finally did it and the governor is responsible for it. The members of the senate are not entitled to any of the credit. The credit belongs to the governor and I want him to have it."

Small said his remarks were intended to correct an erroneous impression.

Shortly before Small's address the senate set for special order tomorrow morning a bill making the state auditor appointive by a legislative committee instead of the governor.

That was directly in line with a recommendation of Gov. O'Daniel.

Sen. Weaver Moore of Houston sought immediate consideration of the measure but his motion lost by a paper-thin margin of one vote. The main objection was that colleagues wanted the bill printed so they could study it further. It was approved by the state affairs committee yesterday.

The measure would leave appointment of the auditor to a committee composed of the Lieutenant Governor, chairman of the state affairs committee, members of the house, the speaker of the house, and chairman of the house appropriations and revenue and taxation committees.

Moore held it would remove legislative pressure from the governor.

"I congratulate him on asking that the appointment be placed in the hands of members of the legislature responsible for appropriation," he said.

The senate passed finally and sent to the house a bill prohibiting filing of suits for commission on sales of real estate, including mineral transfers, unless the plaintiff can produce an agreement or written memo as to terms of the commission or brokerage fee.

Its author, Sen. Rudolph West of Seguin, said many states had a similar law. It would not apply to suits now on file.

Bills introduced in the house included one by Rep. Albert R. Cauthern of Del Rio for establishment of an international park along the Big Bend of the Rio Grande. Cauthern said he contemplated a state appropriation of around $500,000 to match private contributions.

Another proposal would convert the Confederate home here into a state home for disabled United States veterans of all wars.

An agreed judgment was entered Tuesday in the case of Clarence Young vs. the Texas Employers Insurance Association. The suit was the result of injuries said to have been suffered by the plaintiff June 28, 1938, while employed by the Whiteside Brick & Lumber Company.

A written motion for a continuance of the case of the State of Texas vs. Sherman ONell, charged with driving a car while intoxicated, is scheduled to be heard in the district court Wednesday afternoon. The state announced ready for trial Wednesday morning. Absence of defense witnesses is ascribed as the basis for the seeking the continuance.

House Joins Senate Abolishing Office

AUSTIN, Feb. 7.—(AP)—The house today overwhelmingly passed a senate bill to abolish the office of state tax commissioner. House amendments will necessitate further senate action before the proposal can reach the governor's office.

The vote was 132 to 13. The principal amendment adopted by the house was one making the attorney general instead of the treasurer a member of the state tax board. Proponents contended abolition of the office would effect a saving of more than $50,000 a year. They said Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel favored the move.

O'Daniel had named Elmer M. Halle of Hereford as tax commissioner but the senate withheld action on his confirmation pending outcome of the bill to abolish the office.

Opponents voiced concern lest elimination of the department would result in a loss to the state in revenues from tax claims and from intangible assets taxes on oil pipelines and railroads.

Under the bill, the comptroller would take over the duties now performed by the tax commissioner. Members of the tax board would be the attorney general, comptroller and secretary of state instead of the present membership of tax commissioner, comptroller and secretary of state.

FEDERAL JUDGE HAS RESIGNED PLACE AS RESULT OF CHARGES

NEW YORK, Jan. 31.—(AP)—Two federal and two state inquiries were pushed today into the involved business affairs of Martin T. Manton, resigned senior judge of the U. S. Court of appeals.

The investigations were undertaken by the U. S. department of justice, U. S. District Attorney Gregory F. Noonan, the state tax department and District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey.

The 58-year-old jurist—youngest federal judge in the nation when he was appointed to the bench in 1916 after a brilliant law career—gave up his post yesterday while categorically denying the charges.

He had accepted more than $400,000 in loans from persons interested in affairs before his court.

Judge Manton said he preferred to step down rather than become "the central figure in a controversy" which might "weaken public confidence in the administration of justice."

In a letter to President Roosevelt, the $125,000 a year judge, highest-ranking jurist next to the nine supreme court justices, asked to be relieved of his duties not later than March 1.

Later Judge Manton made two sarcastic jibes at District Attorney Dewey, who charged in a letter to the house judiciary committee that Manton had accepted personally or through corporations controlled by him six loans totaling $439,451—of which only $50,000 was repaid.

Asked a question concerning books of one corporation; the judge responded grimly: "You ask Dewey. He wants the publicity."

Replying to queries as to whether the investigations were in connection with state or federal income tax returns, he said shortly: "In connection with Mr. Dewey's ambitions."

JOBLESS PAYMENTS ECONOMICALLY SOUND ALTMAYER DECLARES

CHAIRMAN SOCIAL SECURITY
BOARD SAYS MILLIONS
MAY BE ADDED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—(AP)—Congress was told today by Chairman Arthur J. Altmeyer that millions more Americans could be brought under the social security system without increasing the ultimate cost of the program.

Unemployment compensation, the social security board chairman testified before the house ways and means committee, is not only a social obligation but a matter of economic self-interest to the nation and its community.

"Experience has already proved," Altmeyer said, "that benefit payments help to maintain workers' purchasing power and thereby stimulate lagging business and industrial activity."

With reference to old-age insurance, Altmeyer contended the government was obligated to build "more adequate protection as rapidly as possible and in extending it to more of the nation's people."

"The social security board" Altmeyer asserted, "believes that it is administratively feasible to bring into the system large numbers of persons not yet covered—including employees of non-profit organizations, employees of national banks and similar agencies, domestic workers and agricultural laborers. All told, these groups include some 6 million men and women."

While the ways and means committee commenced its study of social security expansion, the capitol's corridors buzzed with talk of a conference President Roosevelt had yesterday with members of the senate military committee.

War and Defense.

War and defense also were topics before the house naval committee. Rear Admiral Arthur B. Cook, chief of naval operations, testified before that group that he wanted sufficient men to provide two crews for each of the proposed 3,000 naval airplanes.

Other congressional activity included:

The house rules committee heard an argument between Chairman Dies (D-Tex) of the committee investigating un-American activities and Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) as to whether Dies committee had accused Attorney General Frank Murphy, former Michigan governor, of being a communist.

Dies denied this was true. Dingell, who demanded different personnel in the investigation, contended Dies at least had permitted the impression to go out that Murphy had communist leanings.

Representative Woodruff (D-Va) beat the house that a conference report compromising senate-house differences on the $275,000,000 relief bill, would be brought up "the first thing tomorrow."

MAX SCHMELING IS BACK IN U.S. READY TO FIGHT AGAIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Max Schmeling, former world heavyweight boxing champion, arrived from Germany today emphatically denying he or his wife had any trouble with Nazi authorities, or that he had any intention of quitting the ring.

"I'm ready to fight Joe Louis again, but first I want to meet one or two of the leading title contenders," he said.

Schmeling's hopes of regaining his heavyweight crown were given a decided setback last summer when he was knocked out in two rounds by Champion Louis. He tossed aside with an emphasis "nein" any suggestion that he had been sent to this country by the government to quiet rumors that all was not well between him and his wife and the Nazi authorities.

"I just came over to say 'Hello' to my friends, here and to pay a little visit," Schmeling said. "The whole story about my trouble with government leaders was a lot of bunk. And the report that Propaganda Minister Goebbels was beaten up by some friends of an actress is absolutely silly."

"I was never reprimanded or detained in any way by the Nazi party, and I never said I would break Herr Goebbels' neck. If he paid attention to my wife."

Minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. E. C. Hess, secretary. The treasurer's report was rendered. Roll call was answered by naming "my favorite bird."

After a brief business discussion, Mrs. Eugene Ross disclaimed with prayer and the social hour was entered into.

ENGINEERS ACCEPT 'FEEDER ROAD' FROM KERENS SOUTHWARD

WORK UNDER WAY ON HIGH-WAY 22 FROM CONCRETE
SLAB TO RIVER BRIDGE

State Highway and Federal engineers have formally accepted the Kerens "feeder road" extending from Highway 31 in Kerens to intersect Highway 22 southeast of Eureka and east of Chambers creeks. The state will maintain this road.

A section of this road was constructed several years ago as a WPA project but was stopped before completion. After considerable effort, the state highway department was interested in the proposal and constructed bridges and other drainage structures and completed the graveling of the road.

Improvements under way on Highway 22 between the end of the slab southeast of Eureka and the Trinity River bridge have been shutdown for several weeks due to weather conditions. It was learned here that work is improving the unpaved section of

The CAR That Decided

TO END IT ALL...

It made a lot of people happy in its day. The McGinnis' drove to California one summer. Bob Sawyer used it every day during the 4 years he was at State University. HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY
By VERONICA DENGEL

A YEAR'S CLOTHES BUDGET.

No doubt you have been pouring over magazine and newspaper pictures of the new spring clothes and wishing you had more money to spend for what you just "simply have to have." Of course you had been planning to get something each week since last fall so that you would have lovely new outfit—complete in every detail—but somehow, well, you never got started.

It's a grand plan to budget your finances. I know you have heard it before, but it is still a good idea. I don't mean that you should sit each night for half an hour and wrack your mind to account for that nine-cent difference, but to anticipate your expenditures and proportion them according to your income, is certainly wise. Then when the time comes to make your purchases, the money is there ready and waiting.

So many girls go along from week to week letting their salaries or allowances dribble away on foolish items, that I want to prove to you how much you can have in good clothes on a very small income. Have you ever bought a hat because "my dear, it was reduced to only $1.98," but then have to buy a dress you didn't need in order to be able to wear the hat? Of course you have—and so have I. But let's not do it again.

I have prepared an outline for a year's expenditure for a woman with less than five dollars a week to spend on her own clothes. The clothes budget for an individual, or a family with moderate income should be approximately 22 per cent of the total income. A girl earning $20 per week could afford to set aside $4.40 of this for her clothes; and the housewife of a family of four whose income is $80 per week could fairly spend the same amount on herself. For a year, this would amount to $228.80. If you would like to have the detailed outline of how this amount of money can be apportioned to provide a complete and attractive wardrobe, just write to me, in care of this paper, and I shall send you a copy. It may help you to find the weak points in your clothes planning. And since there are added suggestions for buying and color harmony, I think you will get some helpful suggestions out of it. Don't forget to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Here is one good rule to follow: In order to get your money's worth out of everything you buy, it must be the best quality you can afford, and be suitable for your use.

YMCA BOARD

a man who made his ideas practical, he was one of the first citizens in Corsicana to advocate a Young Men's Christian Association for this city. He aided in the establishment of the YMCA in Corsicana in 1886 and became its second president.

Aided Lot Purchases.
Through his efforts the Y. M. C. A. purchased a lot in the quarter of the block now occupied by the Post Office building. When various interests, early in 1912, sought to have the new Post Office building built upon this site, he urged and consummated the sale of this lot and the purchase of the quarter of the block now occupied by the Y. M. C. A. and was responsible for the consummation of this exchange.

which was consummated on April 27, 1912. The wisdom of this exchange for the Y. M. C. A.'s benefit has long been borne out.

In 1913 when it was proposed to build a Y. M. C. A. building in Corsicana on the Y. M. C. A. lot he was one of the first of the seven citizens who gave $5,000.00 to the building campaign, conditioned that a minimum of $60,000 in good subscriptions be obtained to erect a fire-proof building free of debt. He was one of the leaders in the ensuing campaign which raised $85,987.50 to build the present Y. M. C. A. building in 1914. He was on the Building Committee that had charge of the plans and building of this building.

Frank Neal Drane served as a member of the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. for forty-seven years. In 1933 he became a member of the advisory committee and helpfully served in this capacity until the time of his death. It may be safely said that the date of directors has never had a more faithful and valuable member.

Interested in Modernization.
He was deeply interested in the plan for modernizing and enlarging the Y. M. C. A. building and its program, so as to make same available to the girls and women, as well as the boys and men of Corsicana and Navarro county. His daughter, Dorothy Drane, shared his interest in this program and was a valuable member of the women's advisory committee of the Y. M. C. A. for the enlarged building and program to the date of her untimely death on September 20, 1937.

Frank Neal Drane was interested in the campaign begun last October for the modernization and rehabilitation of the present building and the enlarged program of the Y. M. C. A. His last public addresses were made at the campaign workers' meetings during this campaign. It cannot be denied that the early and successful completion of this campaign was undoubtedly deterred by his untimely death on last December 1st.

The Y. M. C. A. board misses his wise counsel, his sympathetic interest and his unfailing support of its program. Although this is but one institution in Corsicana that has been bettered and enriched by him, the board of directors of the Y. M. C. A. takes this means of making acknowledgment of the enduring contribution of his time and talents devoted to this institution which, with the service and co-operation of others, has enabled it to serve and influence thousands of young men and boys during its service to the community and will continue to serve the citizens of Corsicana and Navarro county in the years to come.

THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that this resolution be placed in the archives of this Young Men's Christian Association, that a copy thereof be given to his family, and that a copy be given to the press.

Voted unanimously at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. board on February 2, 1939.

SNOW-RAIN

visitation was in scattered areas of the city.

Tyler reported a heavy rain. The United States weather forecast was rain in Central and south portions of East Texas, and colder weather tonight in the northeast and North Central portions. Freezing was expected as far south as San Antonio.

The Dallas bureau said the cold weather would dip into the Rio Grande valley tomorrow, but freezing temperatures were not expected in that area.

Cloudy, colder and unsettled weather was predicted for West Texas.

Mild Norther Here.
The predicted norther struck here early Thursday morning but the temperature did not drop as low as was expected. Showers followed the norther and the temperature remained in the low 40s all morning.

A continuation of the clouds and rain with freezing temperatures tonight, is the official government weather bureau prediction for this section tonight. Fair weather is predicted for Friday.

CONVICT

State police, the highway department and Dallas officers were notified. Guards sped after the fugitive in automobiles, but hours after the escape no trace of Cash was reported.

Cash, serving a life sentence for slaying a Brooklyn salesman, Harry Leon Helfman, in Dallas Nov. 15, 1937, and throwing the body into a sewage pit, escaped last Oct. 16 by posing as a soda pop salesman at a prison rodeo.

The disguise won him an exit through the main gate, but he was captured a few days later in Dallas. He said he had escaped to establish his innocence.

He was registered into the penitentiary under the name of Robert Lacy.

FARM TENANCY

Corry's bill is one providing for "habitable dwellings." These are defined as a house with sufficient windows and screens, doors and proper places for disposal of sewage and other forms of waste.

The bill said under the present system there was little incentive for the tenant to improve land since he might be forced to move and leave any orchards or other properties he had placed on the farm.

Pick-up Truck Bought.

The bid of Howell's garage for a Dodge pick-up truck for precinct 2 at $750 was accepted. Commissioner George said he would not purchase a pick-up at the present time, awaiting further bids.

The repairing and covering of certain records in the county clerk's office was authorized. Bills amounting to $197.50 were authorized to be paid for Commissioner C. O. Slaughter.

Discussion was held on the proposed work on the locking system at the county jail.

Commissioner George was authorized to purchase a stove, along with Sheriff C. O. Curling and County Auditor E. Y. Cunningham, for use in the county jail. It was brought out that the stove now in use is the property of Former Sheriff Rufus Pevehouse. Judge Miller said the refrigerator now in use at the jail is the property of Sheriff Cunningham.

The offer at a discount of Dawson bonds totalling $4,000 was tendered for purchase by the county for the permanent school fund, but the offer was held up pending further investigation into the matter.

Tax and road matters were also discussed.

Committee Fails to Pass on Kunschik
AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Unanswered today was the question whether the senate committee on government would recommend confirmation of Joe Kunschik of Austin, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's choice as state labor commissioner.

A long parade of witnesses, including the nominee himself, yesterday filed into the hearing behind closed doors, and when it was over Senator Allan Shivers of Port Arthur, committee chairman, said more testimony would be heard before the group reached a decision.

The nomination of Kunschik, protested by a large number of labor organizations, attained prominence especially after he had unexpectedly rejected Carr P. Collins of Dallas, one of O'Daniel's closest friends, as chairman of the highway commission.

Shivers said the committee's next regular meeting was Monday and no called meetings were anticipated.

Only senate action on house amendments remained prior to filing.

"It will be said that we must be prepared to go across the seas and enforce lawful rights for American trade by military action. I do not agree with that thesis. There always comes a time, with patience, when such acts can be accomplished by the processes of peace."

Mr. Hoover said the American people thus far have limited their approval of foreign policies to non-intervention in the affairs of other nations, armament for defense only of the western hemisphere, protection "by force if necessary" of the lives of Americans who are of necessity abroad, international co-operation to promote peace and prosperity, and prohibition of the sale of arms to nations at war.

"Mr. Roosevelt now proposes to expand these policies," he said. "The sum of his proposal is that we make effective protests at acts of aggression against sister nations. He says we must use methods stronger than words and short of war. He asks for armament to back his extensions."

Mr. Hoover expressed hope America would stand against the principle that durable peace could be imposed on nations by force, threats, economic pressures, or war "because it is the only hope of preserving liberty on this continent."

Rep. Lonnie Alsop of Carthage, author of the resolution, said he believed the law could be amended in such a way that refunds would be substantially reduced.

Ellis introduced in the house included one by Rep. W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi to repeal the chain store tax law and another by Rep. George Howard of Houston amending the statute licensing professional engineers.

The house sent the senate a bill withdrawing all public school lands from sale or lease until the legislature has an opportunity to write stricter land leasing laws.

The bill was recommended by both Governor O'Daniel and land commissioner, Bascom Giles.

The lower chamber decided to hold a session tomorrow.

Rep. E. Nicholson of Port Neches introduced one bill which would close the East Neck of East Galveston Bay to commercial fishing and another to close all Texas bays. A third bill by Nicholson would require all Jefferson county hunters and fishermen to buy licenses, regardless of whether they are residents.

The house passed a bill making the closed fishing season on Caddo Lake Feb. 15-April 15 instead of March 1-May 1.

Committee Fails to Pass on Kunschik
AUSTIN, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Unanswered today was the question whether the senate committee on government would recommend confirmation of Joe Kunschik of Austin, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's choice as state labor commissioner.

A long parade of witnesses, including the nominee himself, yesterday filed into the hearing behind closed doors, and when it was over Senator Allan Shivers of Port Arthur, committee chairman, said more testimony would be heard before the group reached a decision.

The nomination of Kunschik, protested by a large number of labor organizations, attained prominence especially after he had unexpectedly rejected Carr P. Collins of Dallas, one of O'Daniel's closest friends, as chairman of the highway commission.

Shivers said the committee's next regular meeting was Monday and no called meetings were anticipated.

Only senate action on house amendments remained prior to filing.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Twas up to John W. Taylor today to find himself a new abode. Sheriff's deputies evicted him from his "home" in the roots of a fallen tree.

"You might freeze to death sleeping on the ground," a deputy warned.

"What do you think I am, a panty-waist?" demanded Taylor.

"Our foreign policies in these major dimensions must be determined by the American people and the congress, not by the president alone," he said.

The speaker dismissed the danger of military attack upon the United States by European and Asiatic dictatorships.

Does Not Agree
"It will be said that we must be prepared to go across the seas and enforce lawful rights for American trade by military action. I do not agree with that thesis. There always comes a time, with patience, when such acts can be accomplished by the processes of peace."

Mr. Hoover said the American
